CRIMINAL WARRANTS LIKELY

If Evidence Is Sufficient Criminal Proceedings will Be Started at Once

The body of Jack Plein was found today in the hold of the steamer J. S., which burned below Genoa Saturday night after 1,500, was miraculously rescued. This discovery the positive statement of Capt. Streckfus that Plein was released and escaped when the fire was discovered, and it is expected that Houston Co., Minn., authorities and relatives who hired divers to find Plein's body will start criminal action against the owners of the vessel. Indications are Plein was suffocated and unable to get out of the hold. His body has been located, but not recovered as it is wedged under the heavy boilers which sunk through the decking.

An inquest is being held at New Albin this afternoon and if the evidence is sufficient, says District Attorney O. K. Dahl, of Chaska, criminal warrants will be issued for boat officials tonight.

Complete information concerning the finding of the body is lacking, but one of the investigators who was in victory for a few minutes at noon to notify relatives the body was located said Diver Charles Monday of Dubuque searched the sunken hull yesterday afternoon and this morning located Plein's body during the morning. The corpse bears indication, he said, of having been suffocated. It is evident Plein was never released as claimed by Capt. Streckfus and Policeman Jack Page of the J. S., and that when the fire broke out on the vessel he was left locked in the hold, where, he died like a rat in a trap, unable, in the confusion and panic to make anyone overhead hear his cries and release him. The body shows signs of a hard fight and from indications the unfortunate victim made desperate efforts to get out when he discovered the boat was on fire.

The theory is now generally accepted that Plein when cast in the hold was not alone, but that he was accompanied by another man, who was killed by the fire. The body of the second man was not found, but it is expected the body will be brought to the surface sometime during the afternoon.

It was impossible to ascertain today whether the hatch through which Plein might have escaped was locked by the diver, but this would be immaterial, as it might have been opened by some of the crew between the time of the accident and the time when the investigation started to hide the fact it had been left locked.

On Monday, following the burning of the steamer, Captain Streckfus issued a positive statement that Plein had been released and that he es-

HARVARD WINS IN PUNISHING RACES

Yale Four Oar and Freshmen at Mercy of Crimson in Both Races This Morning

HARVARD EIGHT FAVORITE

Fans Believe the Big Race This Afternoon will Also Go to This Morning's Victors

FLASH: Harvard won the eight oar by four lengths. Unofficial time 20 minutes.

FINISH LINE, NEW LONDON, Conn., June 30.—From 20,000 to 25,000 people gathered this afternoon to witness the Harvard-Yale varsity boat race on the river Thames. The crowd far outnumbered that which saw the morning struggles and the enthusiasm was such that it seemed that everyone had saved himself for the big event. Harvard's dual victory of the morning switched the betting odds to as high as 10 to 6 on the crimson. "Clean sweep" was the slogan of the Harvardites in anticipation of which they began early preparations for a celebration here and in New York and Boston tonight.

The scene along the dock and river preceding the start of the big race was the most animated New London has ever seen. Collegians in class groups marched and yelled and "cut up" to the limit.

The wind was from the north, blowing down stream and augured fast time. It was expected that the race would start about 5 o'clock. The down stream record for the course is 20:10, made by Yale in 1888, and there were hopes that this mark of 22 years would be shattered.

NEW LONDON, Conn., June 30.—Harvard won the two morning races with the Yale freshmen eight and the varsity four in such impressive style today that the Crimson varsity is a strong favorite for the big varsity event this afternoon.

Harvard won from the freshmen by 1-1/2 lengths and apparently could have made it several times this distance had she wished.

In the varsity fours Yale went all to pieces in the last half and lost what appeared to be a commanding lead, finishing with four boat lengths of open water between.

The Yale four rowed out its last ounce of strength and at the finish, L. K. Thorne of Babylon, L. L. bow oarsman, collapsed. A dash of water in the face revived him and he was able to stay in the boat until Yale quarters were reached.

The Harvard freshmen won their race with plenty to spare, leading from the first 100 yards. Yale got the jump at the start at 10:46 but this was the only time the Yale prow showed ahead. Harvard, rowing at a thirty-six clip to Yale's thirty-two quickly forged ahead and was a length and a quarter ahead at the three quarter mile point. Yale, splashed heavily at the mile and the blue boys got together and, jumping the strokes up to 36 and 38 they pulled almost to even terms and gave their followers heart. It proved to be a flash in the pan and was quickly over. Harvard rowed with the even Harvard stroke, following Goodale with military precision and at the mile and a half point Yale's defeat was inevitable.

Official time of the Varsity four-oared: Harvard 13:00 1/4; Yale 13:18. Official time of Freshmen race: Harvard 11:54 1/4; Yale, 12:02.

Once more Yale got off in the lead in the four oared race which was started at 11:40. It looked all Yale for the first mile and a quarter, at which point Yale was 1-3/4 lengths ahead. Harvard, however, had a far greater reserve strength than Yale and at the moment the latter began tiring, the Crimson boat slipped forward and Yale's lead was soon gone. The Yale crew was in plain distress for the last half of the mile and they lagged painfully. Harvard, it seemed, gained yards with every sweep of the oars and at the finish four lengths of open water showed between the Harvard stern and Yale's bow.

Both crews splashed considerably, owing to the slightly ruffled water.

Indications are that the big race will not be rowed before 5:30 this afternoon owing to a rising wind.

It was expected that Col. Roosevelt would be a guest but his engagement with President Taft for the afternoon prevented him from being present. Mrs. Roosevelt, however, watched the two events with a group of friends from a launch and yelled lustily for the Harvard crew.

CAN DISPROVE THE CHARGES OF GORE

Oklahoma Attorney Says He Can Prove Himself Guiltless and Asks for Investigation

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 30.—Boasting that he is prepared to clear himself of every charge brought against him by Senator Gore of improperly influencing congressional action to secure contracts, sale of Indian lands, J. F. McMurray, the Oklahoma attorney, today sent a letter to the special investigating committee of the senate and house asking for an immediate investigation.

He also stated that Cecil Lyon, republican national committeeman from Texas, who was charged by Gore with co-operating with McMurray in lobbying, "has no interest, direct or indirect," in the contracts, nor has he been interested at any time in securing them.

The senate committee can take no action until the next session of congress as the senate failed to provide it with funds, but the house committee which is thoroughly equipped with both money and authority will start in at the earliest possible moment.

Senator Gore will speak at the Chautauqua here tonight, but at 3:30 had not yet arrived in the city, and therefore could not be interviewed upon the reply of Attorney McMurray to his charges of bribery.

NO MORE TIGHT BATHING SUITS

CHICAGO, June 30.—No more has the fat girl the advantage over her thin sister on fashionable bathing beaches here. Chief of Police Steward today ordered a censorship of bathing costumes and appointed two plain clothes men who will make the rounds of the beaches looking for suits which expose too much of the wearers form.

Just what the chief terms too much is not known, but he says many fashionable women bathers on the lake shore will soon know.

SHOOTING MARSHAL ON OLD GRUDGE

MUSKOGEE, Okla., June 30.—Dick Terry, former United States marshal, was shot and fatally wounded at Tahlequah today by C. L. Pratt, cashier of the bank at Kansas, Okla. The shooting resulted from an old grudge.

CARMEN SYLVIA IS DYING TODAY

BUCHAREST, June 30.—Queen Elizabeth of Roumania, known the world over under her pen name, Carmen Sylvia, is at the point of death here. The queen has been suffering from appendicitis. Today a relapse occurred and her physicians have little hope of saving her life.

LUMBER RATES LOWERED TODAY

Commerce Commission Favors Omaha Commercial Club in Decision on Rates Today

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 30.—Upon complaint by the Commercial club of Omaha against the Chicago & Northwestern and other railroads the interstate commerce commission today directed that the rates on lumber from Omaha to points in Colorado, Kansas and Nebraska be lowered from one to three points per 100 pounds.

The Humboldt Steamship company of Seattle which sought to compel the White pass and Yukon route to enter into joint rates and through routes from Seattle to Alaska lost its case, the commission adhering to its recent decision that it has no jurisdiction over Alaska.

BROWNE AND WILSON GIVE BOND TODAY

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 30.—Lee O'Neill Browne and Representative Robert E. Wilson, indicted last Saturday by the Sangamon county grand jury on charges of conspiracy to commit bribery in the last session of the general assembly, this morning appeared in court and gave bonds in the sum of $10,000 each. William Ridgely, president of the Ridgely National bank, and Frank Weidlocher, local commission merchant, both signed each bond, both claiming they are indemnified in some manner not yet disclosed. The two men were accompanied in court by Thomas Dawson of Chicago, and Thomas Ferns of this city, acting as attorneys.

Both Browne and Wilson appeared in the best of humor. As the minority leader passed through the streets he recognized many familiar faces and greeted each one with his nickname. "Hello Sheriff," was Browne's greeting to Sheriff Werner, who responded, "Hello Lee."

At the elevator entrance Dick Kinsella, local leader of the Sullivan democracy, and a party of friends met Browne and there was handshaking all around. After the bonds had been given the indicted men and their attorneys had a conference with Prosecutor Burke for fifteen minutes. Both Wilson and Browne refused to talk.

WIRES DELAY THE ELECTION RETURNS

BISMARCK, N. D., June 30.—There will be no possibility of giving any figures on the vote in the primaries in North Dakota before this afternoon, as all wires in the western part of the state are down and out on account of a severe electrical rain and wind storm.

Reports received before the wires went down were to the effect that McCumber, stalwart, and Gronna, insurgent, will be nominated as senators, and Hanna, stalwart, and Helgeson, insurgent, for congress.

PATTEN RETIRES AFTER MANY YEARS

King of Speculators Winds Up a Busy Business Career with Big Fortune

CHICAGO, June 30.—School is out and the old swimmin' hole is callin' James A. Patten, king of speculators, who today secluded himself in his office, cleaning out his desk, preparatory to retiring from a busy business career when the gong clangs at the close of trading in the wheat pit this afternoon.

"I've been in the harness ever since I was a boy and I need a rest," said Patten when he announced that July 1, the firm of Bartlett, Patten & Co., would be no more and that the Bartlett-Patten company would do business in its stead.

Patten, who expects to spend the next few months resting at his home in Evanston, retires with a fortune estimated at from $10,000,000 to $12,000,000.

Contrary to his usual custom, the "Iron man" refused to give an audience to the newspaper men today.

TELEPHONE GIRL SAVES THE TOWN

LINCOLN, Neb., June 30.—Miss Grace Bradley, night operator for the Bell Telephone company, stayed at her post until driven out by the flames and spread the alarm of fire throughout Weymour, south of here, early today. The business district was almost entirely destroyed, and but for Miss Bradley the entire town might now be in ruins. The fire entailed a loss estimated at $150,000.

Volunteer fire fighters could not subdue the flames and four three-story buildings were destroyed, among them being the opera house and the National bank.

PREMIER CAR IS PROBABLE WINNER

CHICAGO, June 30.—Premier car No. 1, driven by Roy McNamara, arrived at the checking station in Garfield Park at 2:55 o'clock this afternoon and is probably winner of the Glidden tour, which started at Cincinnati June 14. The car has won 9 points against it, having made today's run with a perfect score.

"STANDPAT" HALE'S CRUSHING DEFEAT

PORTLAND, Me., June 30.—Crushing defeat was handed out to the Hale faction of the republican party in Maine today when Asher C. Hinds, house parliamentarian, was nominated for congress in the first district.

Every effort was made by the Hale faction to force the nomination of Col. Fred Hale, son of United States Senator Eugene Hale but Hinds was an easy winner.

"TEDDY"-HUGHES FACTION DEFEATED

New York Republicans Take Adverse Action in Cobb Resolution This Afternoon

TAFT AND TEDDY TOGETHER

Col. Roosevelt Arrives at President's Home at 3:55 and Is Closeted with "Bill"

ALBANY, N. Y., June 30.—The Roosevelt-Hughes forces were defeated in the assembly this afternoon when the motion of Assemblyman Green to postpone action until tomorrow on the adverse report of the judiciary committee on the Cobb bill was defeated, 42 ayes to 99 nays.

Assembly Joins in Rap

By a vote of 80 ayes to 62 nays, the assembly this afternoon sustained the adverse committee report on the Cobb compromise direct primary bill. This kills the bill in the lower house, and similar action is expected in the senate tonight.

The assembly then unanimously passed a resolution providing for adjournment tomorrow at 2 o'clock.

BEVERLY, Mass., June 30.—Col. Roosevelt and Senator Lodge arrived at President Taft's home here at 3:35 this afternoon. They went in their automobile through the gates where the police and secret service men prevented the intrusion of any outsiders.

As the automobile passed through the gates, Roosevelt yelled a greeting, shook hands with some of his newspaper friends and then disappeared toward the house.

BEVERLY, Mass., June 30.—The summer capital was invaded today by an army of newspaper men who descended upon the North Shore armed with fountain pens and cameras ready for the much talked of meeting between President Taft and Col. Roosevelt expected this afternoon. No one was permitted on the grounds of the Taft cottage but just outside a crowd gathered that grew with every train.

There was much speculation regarding the meeting. This was the first time that President Taft and his predecessor in office were to see each other since their memorable farewell in the White House on March 4, 1909.

Roosevelt swung the big stick in New York state last night when he came out with an endorsement of the Cobb direct primaries bill and the legislative leaders immediately resented what they termed his "unwarranted interference."

This morning President Taft went to the Myopia Hunt Club to play golf with John Hays Hammond.

Robert A. Taft left for New London today, where he will see the Harvard-Yale races. After the races, the president's son will go to Murray Bay, where he will spend a month. This is where President Taft lived when he was secretary of war and where his brother, Charles P. Taft, has a summer place.

That Roosevelt does not endorse some of the acts of the Taft administration is well known and some of the politicians profess to believe that an open break is likely to follow today's meeting. Others point out that this is unlikely and that Col. Roosevelt can be depended on to let nothing leak out to indicate what he said to Taft or what Taft said to him until after he has returned to New York.

May Discuss N. Y. Situation

There seemed to be an excellent chance that the New York state situation might be considered. A good part of the opposition to the Hughes policies comes from federal office holders and Roosevelt was expected to make it plain to Taft that federal interference would not be tolerated if he (Roosevelt) was to be held responsible for the life of his party in his native state, as now bids fair to be the case.

Senator Lodge in the two-fold friendship of Roosevelt and advisor of administration, is responsible for the meeting. Both the ex-president and president cautiously spared for some time before final arrangements were perfected. It was decided that there would be no witnesses except Secretary Norton and Senator Lodge.

It is understood that the convincing argument which Senator Lodge used to bring the two men together was the necessity of Roosevelt seeking the endorsement of the administration for the Hughes plan for direct primary in New York. Col. Roosevelt wants Hughes plan to go through the New York legislature and in view of his statement yesterday is anxious to pledge President Taft's co-operation. The executive favors the present primary system but differs slightly with Hughes in its application. The outcome will be, in all probability, that republican leaders in New York will receive an intimation from President Taft to get together for the Hughes plan.

Mr. Walter Clark of Bluefield, W. Va., was laid up with lung trouble, unable to work for two months. He tried numerous medicines without results until he took Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. It completely cured him and now in perfect health.

Two programs of band music, that ran the gamut from popular airs to selections from grand opera were the offerings yesterday afternoon and evening at the Chautauqua, by Signor Ferrante and his thirty performers. Two big audiences greeted the band, every one was delighted and enthusiasm ran high.

The Royal Italian Guards Band is an aggregation of musicians that can play, and under the inspiration of Signor Ferrante's baton gave their numbers with precision and vigor.

Fine Programs

The programs were well arranged and Mr. Ferrante was most gracious in responding to encores. The well known "Poet and Peasant" overture was exceptionally well rendered, also the "Miserere" from "Il Trovatore" but possibly the favorite of many in the afternoon was the beautiful "Potpourri" from "Martha."

The evening the popular "William Tell" overture brought forth great applause, while the selection from "Carmen" and the "Sextette from Lucia" were among the best numbers. During the medley of national airs at the close, the audience rose and gave Mr. Ferrante and his players the Chautauqua salute.

Humorist Fine

Mr. Walter Eccles, the humorist was a genuine treat. His stage presence is good, and his remarkable facial expressions one of his best assets. With his witty Irish stories, and his impersonations especially those of Ezra Kendall, Mr. Eccles made a decided hit. Although booked for the afternoon's entertainment, Mr. Eccles generously responded to the general request for his appearance in the evening.

REID SEES FUTURE FOR RIVER TRAFFIC

State Waterways Commissioner Believes Wisconsin Conditions Are Favorable

State Waterways Commissioner Ray S. Reid has filed his second annual report with Governor Davidson. The report is a lengthy document and gives much valuable information as well as comparisons between conditions in Wisconsin and those in Germany the commissioner having recently visited the latter country.

Commissioner Reid says most of the lumber and coal used in Wisconsin, especially in the western part, could profitably be transported on the rivers if suitable boats were used. Experiments to determine what kind of boats are best fitted should be undertaken by the federal government. He discusses types of boats used on rivers in Germany. He believes the investigation provided by the river and harbor bill will be of great value to Wisconsin.

The commissioner says that he expects to confer with the government engineers on the matter the middle of next month.

"There is," says the commissioner, "great reason for congratulation over the fact that the control of railroads now exercised by the government will prevent unwarranted and destructive competition between rail and river lines. If it can be demonstrated by the experiments about to be made that the river can do business so cheaply that the railroads cannot possibly compete with it, then the government ought to do everything in its power to foster the river traffic."

ORDERS ISSUED FOR THE MILITIA

Officers and members of companies B and M, Wisconsin National Guard, as well as other companies in the state, who will be at Camp Douglas during the month of July, have received orders from Col. John G. Salsman of the adjutant general's office, which illustrates the points upon which inspecting officers base their conclusions when the state soldiers are looked over. Col. Salsman is anxious that members of the national guard be fully informed as to what is to be expected of them in the matter of dress, deportment, bearing, and all of the essentials to the makeup of a model soldier. Much stress is laid in the instructions upon dignity, truthfulness, promptness, diligence, courtesy, obedience, steadiness and a hundred other conditions upon which the proper training of a soldier depends. The various points are given under the headings, "Duties of Officers," "Duties of Non-Commissioned Officers," "Military Courtesies," and "General Discipline."

ANOTHER GERM DESTROYER

Herpicide is Death to Dandruff Germs

The germ borrows into the scalp, throwing up the cuticle in thin scales, called dandruff, or scurf, and digging at the root of the hair where it saps the hair's vitality. First comes brittle hair, then lusterless and dead-like hair, then falling hair, and, finally baldness. Nine-tenths of the hair troubles are caused by dandruff.

Without dandruff, hair will grow luxuriantly, as nature intended. "Herpicide" kills the dandruff germ, leaving the hair to grow unhampered, as it does with the American red man.

MINNESOTA AND THE NORTHWEST

GRAIN IS DAMAGED THROUGHOUT WEST

EAST GRAND FORKS, Minn., June 30.—The condition of the crops in the Red River valley is serious. Rain is needed badly.

The early grain has received the greatest damage, while that sown later is still in a good condition and with rain will turn out well. The early grain has already begun to head.

According to one report the grain after having reached an average maximum height of six inches has been maturing too early.

The condition of this grain is being watched with a great deal of anxiety throughout this section.

Reports from Winnipeg say that news coming from all over western Canada is to the effect that even should the badly needed rains fall at once the yield will not be more than half a crop.

PROGRESSIVES GAINING GROUND

ST. PAUL, Minn., June 30.—Senator Moses E. Clapp, who reached home from Washington, declared his firm belief that the principles of the "progressives" in congress are going to dominate from this time on.

"The party is gradually getting back to where it was eighteen months ago," said the senator. "It will move forward from the ground already taken, in the same line as before, and on the real basic principles of republican progress."

Senator Clapp said that the growth of the progressive sentiment in the present congress has been marked and was manifested toward the close of the session in the passage of the new railroad bill. He is much pleased over the tariff commission act, though he considers it only a stepping stone toward solution of the question.

WISCONSIN NEWS

TEST FOOD LAW IN SUPREME COURT

MADISON, Wis., June 30.—State Dairy and Food Commissioner J. Q. Emery is manifesting keen interest in the fact that Wisconsin is likely to be called upon to defend certain existing pure food laws before the bar of the United States supreme court. Recently the Wisconsin supreme court upheld the validity of the law under which certain grocers were convicted and fined for selling "corn syrup," which was not made from corn and therefore, under the state law, was improperly labeled. It should have been labeled "glucose" and information comes to the state officials that the Corn Products Refining company and its subsidiary concerns will no longer ship the stuff into Wisconsin; and furthermore, that the ruling of the highest state court is likely to be disputed in the national tribunal. It is said that until the case was lost in Wisconsin, the various companies had been shipping into the state between 800 and 1,000 cars of "corn syrup." Jobbers throughout the state have received warnings to discontinue the sale of the article from any stocks they have on hand.

sonable regularity on schedule time, we will get our mail at 11 o'clock in the morning of the day it is mailed, and can fill orders the same day.

"The explanation for the unreasonable and continued delay of the Burlington train reaching here at 12:30 is that it comes from the Pacific coast, and can't make the through schedule on time. We feel that 'Uncle Sam' should do one of two things—either put the service on the local train as well as on the through train, or compel the railway company to operate the through train on time."

Postmaster Tscharnier is in receipt of a great many other complaints about this service, which has been a source of protest for a long time. He has taken the matter up with the postoffice department. While it always takes considerable pressure to secure the addition of a new train for mail service, reliance is placed upon the confidence reposed in Mr. Tscharnier at Washington, where representations made by him always receive consideration. It is earnestly hoped that the desired relief will be furnished.

KINDS OF "FOURTHS"

We sympathize with the conclusion of The Saturday Evening Post that when, in urging "an old time celebration" Mayor Gaynor suggested a "grand parade," he "didn't say much." The Post says:

"The only objection to this is that a grand parade in a big city is the dullest and most painful of all manifestations of lunacy. We can see Fifth Avenue flagging jammed with sweltering humanity at a temperature of one hundred in the shade; women and children fainting at the most congested corners; policemen all up and down the line busily pushing in the chests and faces of those whom the pressure from the rear drives into the gutter; other policemen, from the Park to Washington Square, heartily cursing teamsters and taxicab-drivers who return the compliments in so far as they dare; distracted citizens, with engagements on the other side of the parade, wildly fluttering up and down looking for an opening that does not exist; meanwhile, various civic bodies plodding stolidly down the avenue, stony-eyed from heat and fatigue. A grand parade in a big city is about as comfortable as a Roman chariot race in a crowded dining-room, but far less interesting."

"A real old-fashioned Fourth of July celebration consisted of patriotic orations and greased-pig races. For the sake of the latter one endured the former. At present, city people of means celebrate the Fourth of July by going as far into the country as their money will take them. Why not devote the price of the grand parade to giving city people without means the same opportunity?"

But let us have the "grand parade," if we can have it silently. Like the "greased pig" game, it has the advantage of being optional—one need not participate. But the modern "Fourth" presents no such alluring conditions. One cannot escape it, for it is noise—all pervading and incessant noise. From this nuisance we pray for deliverance.

IN ANOTHER NUTSHELL

Albeit the congressional committee having the matter in charge has not yet "cracked the nut," pretty nearly every publication in the country has, at one time or another, put the Ballinger case "in a nutshell." A conservative exchange puts it this way:

"In the long Ballinger investigation a ton or so of evidence has been presented. Much of it is of a technical sort, difficult for the uninitiated layman to appraise and weigh. Not a little of it is squarely contradictory. The newspapers have published only brief excerpts, usually selecting whatever seemed most dramatic or picturesque. Perhaps not a hundred persons outside the committee room are really qualified to form a judgment based upon the whole testimony."

"But a few facts nearly everybody knows—namely, that Pinchot, a zealous public servant, opposed the Cunningham claims; that Secretary Garfield also opposed them; that Ballinger, before his appointment as Secretary of the interior, acted as attorney for some of the Cunningham claimants; that the Guggenheims had made a tentative agreement with those claimants to supply capital for the development of the coal claims, in consideration of a half interest therein."

"Upon those facts, probably, public opinion will be formed—in the middle a valuable body of public lands; on the one side Pinchot, deservedly popular; on the other side the Guggenheims, deservedly less popular. In this very simple setting of the case Secretary Ballinger appears on the Guggenheim side. Eminent legal authority asserts that the law also is on the Guggenheim side and, so far as any evidence shows, the Guggenheims in fact withdrew from the enterprise some time ago. But it is doubtful how much weight, in public opinion, the latter two circumstances may have."

At last the interstate commerce commission has ordered a reduction of freight rates. Now hearken to another outburst from Wall Street, predicting panic. Then await the appeal, conferences with "the president," and the final triumph of "big business" over individuals.

Lee O'Neill Browne sees in the disagreement of a jury that stood 8 to 4 for his conviction, complete vindication for himself. How is that for optimism!

No doubt campaigning for a second term, in the case of Assemblyman A. T. Twespe, will be facilitated by the new automobile.

Are you seeking self improvement? You will find it at the La Crosse Chautauqua. That is purely an institution of culture.

We predict an eclipse of the sun on July 4th—if Johnson wins.

THE SHOPLIFTERS

Mr. Swickard who is playing a very clever role in the part of a male shopper in the comedy sketch "The Shoplifters" at the Majestic theater this week was not long ago detained on suspicion for trying to "lift" a hat from one of the large Milwaukee department stores. He however proved that it was a case of a horrible mistake and the police let him go.

"Yes I was really thought to be a 'shoplifter,'" said Mr. Swickard, "and they accused my wife of being my accomplice."

"It came about like this. We had been shopping all the afternoon till I was dead tired. You know how it is if you have ever tried it. The endurance of a woman on a shopping tour is wonderful while a man seems to play out. Well I was in a state of exhaustion as we entered a millinery department and began to look for hats. I sat down to rest while my wife did the buying. The hat was selected after a short while, in the creation end of that large store and placed in a box large enough to take up two seats in an ordinary street car. As we went out, that is after some other things had been purchased, I grabbed the box."

"Everything proceeded nicely until a police officer collared me and when I demanded an explanation he stated that I was wanted for stealing an expensive hat at the store which we had left about an hour ago. I was in an awkward situation and didn't know how to clear myself. However finally we induced the officer to take us back to the store where we were identified as having purchased a hat that afternoon. But they had the goods on us. We had the missing hat and it dawned upon me that I had grabbed the wrong package. Going back to the table from where I had taken it I saw another box exactly like the one I had under my arm and upon opening it, my wife identified the expensive and ludicrous head gear as the millinery creation she had purchased that afternoon. Seeing the similarity of the boxes the owner of the place at once turned me loose but the joke was on me and I haven't lived it down yet."

A Washington man inadvertently overheard some tender exchanges between a recently betrothed couple, who, it chanced, attended some social function at the national capital to which the aforesaid Washingtonian was also asked.

It was on the stairs that the happy pair chose to talk the matter over, and it was from the recesses of an alcove, whether he had gone to get his coat, that the Washingtonian proved to be the accidental recipient of the couple's confidence.

"Just think, dear heart!" exclaimed the young woman. "You proposed to me but twenty-four hours ago."

"Yes, sweetheart," came in thrilling tones, from the fortunate man, "and it seems as though it were but yesterday."—Lippincott's.

A little word
Just letters three,
One syllable,
Short as can be,
So tiny, seems

Yet it can wreck

It puts new phase,

It brings to naught,
It alters even

Sincerest Flattery
At the dinner of a literary club in Chicago two minor poets were heard in conversation.

"Harold," said the one, "I've just seen your triquet in the Spread Eagle Magazine."

"Ah!" exclaimed the other, a pleased expression coming into his face, and with the air of a man preparing himself against a burst of praise.

"Yes," continued the second poet; "and, do you know, I heard rather a neat little compliment passed on it by a young lady of my acquaintance."

Harold seemed still more pleased.

"May I ask what she said?" he queried.

Whereupon the first minor poet giggled. "Why," said he, "she wanted to know whether I had written it."—Lippincott's.

One Touch of Nature

In the hereafter the man encounters a singular group of animals—two or three beavers, an otter, and some seals, all shivering, though the climate, to say the least, was mild.

"So was I," quoth he.

Thenceforth they wandered on together.—Circle Magazine.

"Practically Blind."

A Kansas editor makes a very handsome apology in the following felicitous terms:

"The Journal erred last week in stating that Mrs. Lillie Slack played 'Narcissus' for the rose drill at the eighth grade school commencement. Miss Marjorie Bright should have received that credit. The playing was fully worthy the fine musical talent of Mrs. Slack, anyway—and the Journal man is practically blind after 4 o'clock in the afternoon."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

"Well, perhaps it is, dad," rejoined the youthful philosopher, "but it strikes me you have done pretty well, nevertheless."—Tit-Bits.

GOOSE GIRL

By HAROLD McGRATH

Copyright by Bobbs-Merrill Company

"Herr Carmichael!" said Gretchen. "And what are you doing here this time of the night?"

"I have been on a fool's errand," urbanely.

"And who sent you?"

"The god of fools himself, I guess. I am looking for a kind of ghost, a specter in black that leaves the palace early in the evening and returns late, whose destination has invariably been forty Krumerweg."

The vintner started.

"My house?" cried Gretchen.

"Yours? Perhaps you can dispel this phantom?" said Carmichael.

Gretchen was silent.

"Oh! You know something. Who is she?"

"A lady who comes on a charitable errand. But now she will come no more."

"And why not?"

"The object of her visits is gone."

Gretchen answered sadly.

"My luck!" exclaimed Carmichael ruefully. "I am always building houses of cards. I don't suppose I shall ever reform."

"Are you not afraid to walk about in this part of the town so late?" put in the vintner, who was impatient to be gone.

"Afraid? Of what? Thieves? Bah, my little man, I carry a sword-stick, and moreover I know how to use it tolerably well. Good night."

And he swung along easily, whistling an air from The Barber of Seville.

The indolence in Carmichael's tone set the vintner's ears a-burning but he swallowed his wrath.

"I like him," Gretchen declared, as she stopped before the house.

"Why?" jealously.

"Because he is always like that; pleasant, never ruffled, kindly. He will make a good husband to some woman."

The vintner shrugged. He was not patient tonight.

"Who is this mysterious woman?"

"I am not free to tell you."

"Oh!"

"Leopold, what is the matter with you tonight? You act like a boy."

"Perhaps the police muddle is to blame. Besides, every time I see this man Carmichael I feel like a baited dog."

"In Heaven's name, why?"

"Nothing that I can remember. But I have asked you a question."

"And I have declined to answer that question. All my secrets are yours, but this one is another's."

"Is it her highness?"

Gretchen fingered the latch suggestively.

"I am wrong, Gretchen; you are right. Kiss me!"

"She liked the tone; she liked the kisses, too, though they hurt."

"Good night, my man!" she whispered.

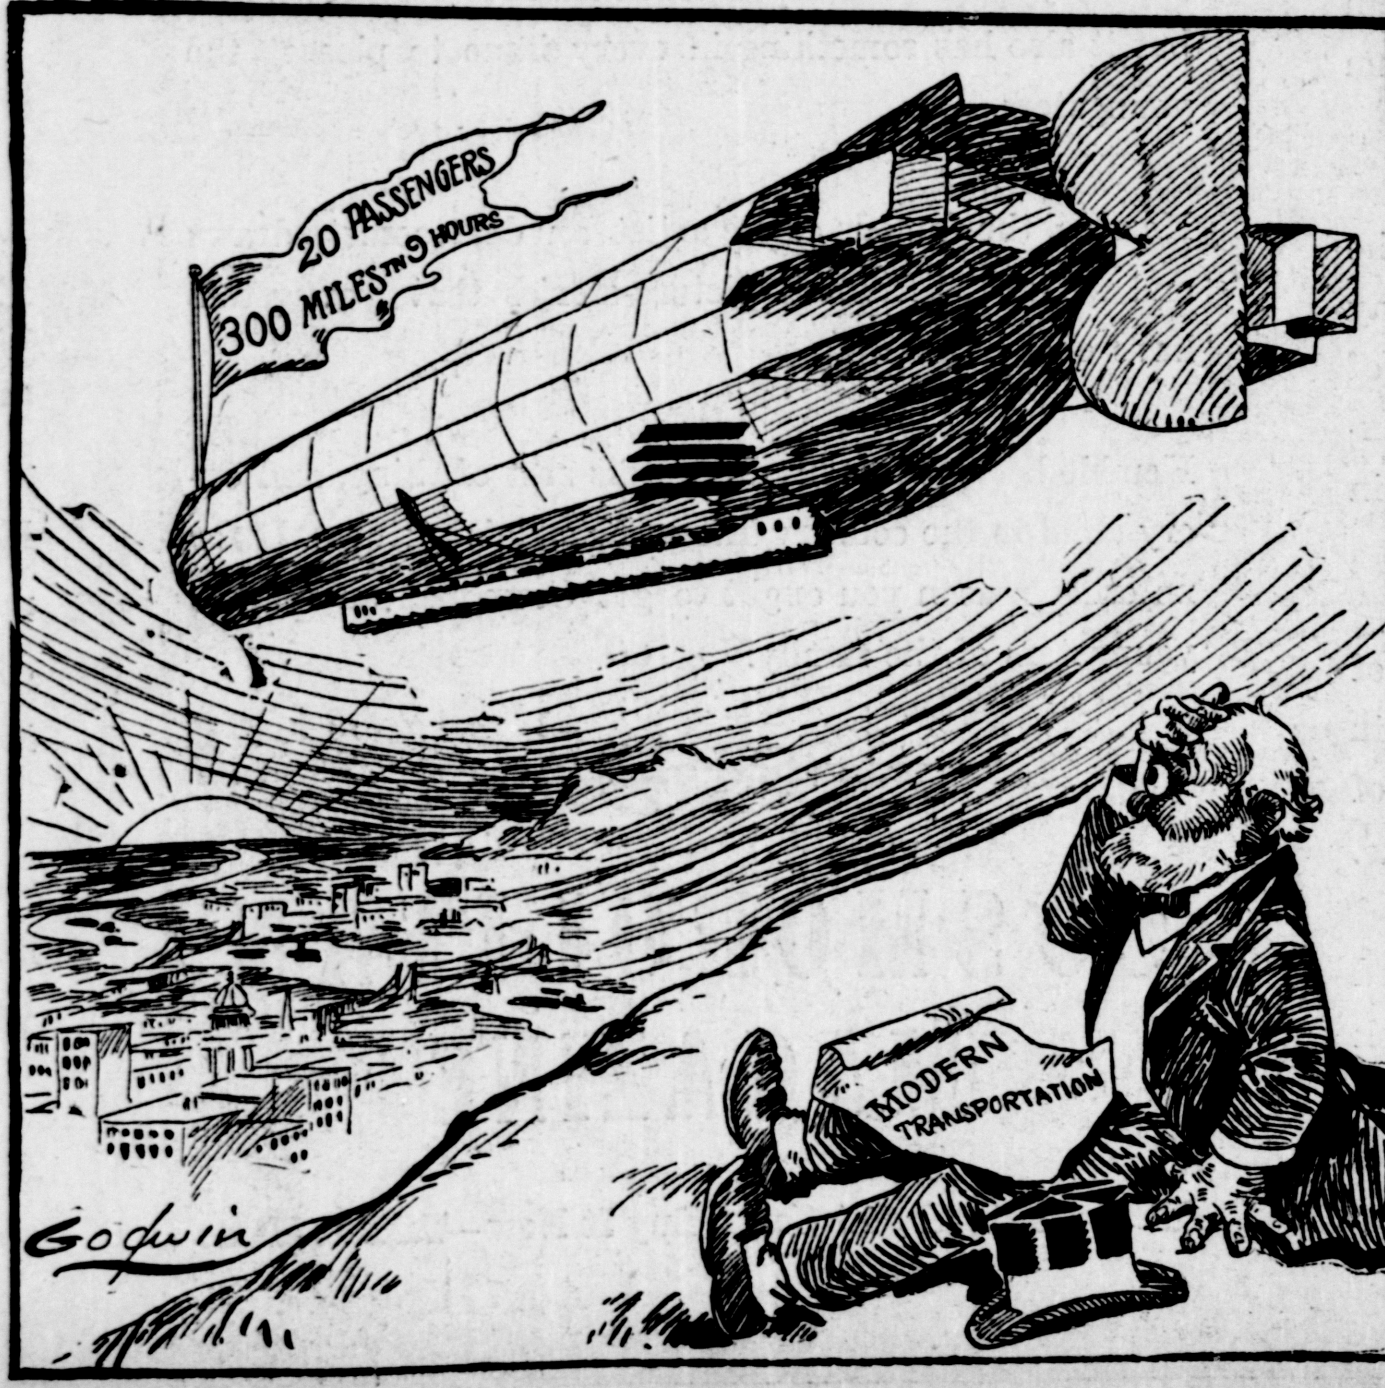

"Good night, my woman! Tomorrow night at eight."

He turned and ran lightly and swiftly up the street. Gretchen remained standing in the doorway till she could see him no more. Why should he run like that? She raised the latch and went inside.

From the opposite doorway a mountaineer, a carter, a butcher and a baker stepped cautiously forth.

"He heard something," said the mountaineer. "He has ears like a rat for hearing. What a pretty picture!" cynically. "All the world loves a lover—sometimes. Touching scene!"

RIP VAN WINKLE AGAIN

Greatest Medicine of the Age

Mr. Walter Clark of Bluefield, W. Va., was laid up with lung trouble, unable to work for two months. He tried numerous medicines without results until he took Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. It completely cured him and now he is in perfect health.

"Having been afflicted with a serious case of lung trouble and used many remedies without result—in fact, I was unable to do any work whatever for two months—Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey was recommended, and I commenced taking the same. I desire to state that I am entirely cured, having been pronounced so by my physician."

"This testimonial is conscientiously given and without any solicitation whatsoever. I consider this the greatest medicine of the present age."—Walter Clark, Bluefield, W. Va. Mr. Clark is a member of the firm of Clark & Co., prominent grocers of Bluefield.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

is a wonderful remedy in the treatment and cure of all diseases of the lungs, throat and stomach and for all weakening and wasting conditions. It is an absolutely pure, gentle and invigorating stimulant and tonic. When taken at mealtime it stimulates the mucous surfaces and little glands of the stomach to a healthy action, thereby improving the digestion and assimilation of the food and giving to the system its full proportion of nourishment. This action upon the digestive process is of great importance, as it brings to all the tissues and organs of the body the nutriment necessary to their sustenance and indirectly to the whole system strength and vigor. It is prescribed by doctors and is recognized as a family medicine everywhere.

If in need of advice write Medical Department, The Duffy Malt Whiskey Company, Rochester, New York, stating your case fully. Our doctors will send you advice free, together with a valuable illustrated medical booklet, containing rare common sense rules for health, which you cannot afford to be without, and some of the many thousands of gratifying letters received from men and women in all walks of life, both old and young, who have been cured and benefited by the use of this great medicine and who continue to enjoy good health. Sold by druggists, grocers and dealers or direct $1.00 a large bottle.

No one replied; no one was expected to reply; more than that, no one cared to court the fury which lay thinly disguised in the mountaineer's tones.

"Tomorrow night; you heard what he said. I am growing weary of this play. You will stop him on his way to yonder house. A closed carriage will be at hand. Before he enters, remember. She watches him too long when he leaves. Fool!"

The quartet stole along in the darkness, noiselessly and secretly.

The vintner had indeed heard something. He knew not what this noise was, but it was enough to set his heels to flying. A phase had developed in his character that defied analysis; suspicion, suspicion of daylight, of night, of shadows moving by walls, of footsteps behind. Only a little while ago he had walked free-hearted and careless. This growing habit of skulking was gail and wormwood. Once in his room, which was directly over the office of the American consulate, he fell into a chair, inert and breathless. What a night! What a series of adventures!

"Only a month ago I was a boy. I am a man now, for I know what it is to suffer. Gretchen, dear Gretchen, I am a black scoundrel; but if I break your heart I shall break my own along with it. I wonder how much longer it will last. But for that vintner's notice I should have been lost."

By and by he lighted a candle. The room held a cot, a table and two chairs. The vintner's wardrobe consisted of a small pack; thrown carelessly into a corner. Out of the drawer in the table he took several papers and burned them. The ashes he cast out of the window. He knew something about police methods; they were by no means all through with him. Ah! A patch of white paper, just inside the door, caught his eye. He fetched it to the candle. What he read forced the color from his cheeks and his hands were touched with transient palsy.

"The devil! What shall I do now," he muttered, thoroughly dismayed.

What indeed should he do? Which way should he move? How long had he been in Dreiberg? Ah, that would be rich! What a joke! It would afford him a smile in his old age. Carmichael, Carmichael! The vintner chuckled softly as he scribbled this note:

"If Herr Carmichael would learn the secret of number forty Krumerweg, let him attire himself as a vintner and be in the Krumerweg at eight o'clock tonight."

"So there is a trap, and I am to beware of a mountaineer, a carter, a butcher and a baker? Thanks, Scharfstein, my friend, thanks! You are watching over me."

He blew out his candle and went to bed.

CHAPTER XIII.

A Day Dream.

Colonel Von Wallenstein curled his mustaches. It was a happy thought that had taken him into the Adlergasse. This Gretchen had been haunting his dreams, and here she was, coming into his very arms, as it were. The sidewalk was narrow. Gretchen, casually noting that an officer stood in the way, sensibly veered into the road. But to her surprise the soldier left the sidewalk, and planted himself in the middle of the road. There was no mistaking this second maneuver. The officer, whom she now recognized, was bent on intercepting her. She stopped, a cold fury in her heart. To make sure, she essayed to go round. It was of no use. So she stopped again.

"Herr," she said quietly, "I wish to pass."

"That is possible, Gretchen."

It was nine o'clock in the morning. The Adlergasse was at this time deserted.

"Will you stand aside?"

"You have been haunting my dreams, Gretchen."

"That would be a pity. But I wish to pass."

"Presently. Do you know that you are the most beautiful being in all Dreiberg?"

"I am in a hurry," said Gretchen.

"There is plenty of time."

HE WOULD RAISE LIQUOR LICENSES

Marvin Wants Special Election in September for This Purpose; Increase it to $500

TO CIRCULATE PETITION SOON

Ten Per Cent of the Voters for Last Preceding Governor Must Ask for Election

If the present plans of Alderman George B. Marvin, Jr., materialize a special election will be held in this city the third Tuesday in September for the purpose of increasing the liquor license fee from $200 to $500. Mr. Marvin is confident that the election will be held and that the fee will be increased by the popular vote of the people.

In order to call a special election it is necessary that petitions be circulated and that a ten per centum vote of the electors at the last preceding gubernatorial election be secured. The law provides that the city clerk shall then file notice of the election ten days before the third Tuesday in September upon which it shall take place. The election is held for the consideration of just one question, as stated specifically by the law.

In speaking of the matter this morning, Mr. Marvin said, "I have been waiting a long time for some one else to start this thing but as no one has I have decided to do it myself."

The increase is a thing that has been asked for by many of the saloon owners in the city. I find that most of the city officials are in favor of the movement and that many of the aldermen also favor it. I think that the time is now ripe for this election and I think that the vote will be heavy in favor of the increase in the fee. I am anxious

"RED" MOORE NOW CHIEF OF POLICE

Red Headed Catcher of the Winona Team Last Year Head of Force at DeWitt, Iowa

Chief of Police Red Moore! Get next to the title—not catcher but chief of police. That's the latest position annexed by the star, sorrel-topped backstop who drew his paycheck from the management of the Winona baseball club throughout the season last year. And now when "Red" gets into an argument he won't be fined by the umpire, but be something of an arbiter himself.

His new position is to keep him at DeWitt, Iowa, where the chief's office is located. The newspaper at DeWitt predicts he will make a brave and efficient officer. A clipping reads:

Change in Police Department

Mayor Armentrout announces the appointment of J. J. Moore as chief of police, and Officer Moore assumed his duties on Wednesday afternoon, W. S. Saltmarsh having resigned the position.

"Mr. Moore's appointment to the office will be pleasant news to his many friends and admirers. He is a man of few words, and will make a brave and efficient officer."

OUTCASTS WIN IN FIFTEEN ROUNDS

A Hit by Doll and Two Wild Throws by Johnson and O'Brien Secure Winning Run

PITCHERS WORK FAULTLESSLY

Dietrich Relieved by Daus, who Hurls Magnificent Ball; Barngrover Good; Score 4-3

The Outcasts yesterday won a hard fought battle in the fifteenth round after six scoreless innings of the most brilliant pitching seen here for many a day by Messrs. Daus, Duluth's Iron Man and Barngrover, the new recruit to the local ranks, by the stingy score of 4 to 3. The game was tied up in the eighth by La Crosse, and a hit and two misplays in the fifteenth won the battle.

Pitchers Work Well

It was one of the best games seen on the local diamond this year. Daus trotted out his tall, rangy, red faced Saxon hurler hailing to the cognomen of Dietrich. He failed to last long however as he began to grow dizzy in the second round and after he had passed two men and allowed another to hit, filling the sacks, O'Brien relegated him to the bench and called in his old work horse Daus to bear the brunt of the battle and make an attempt to pull the game out of the fire. Daus pulled himself out of a bad hole allowing none of the runners to reach home. Besides doing this he hurled a magnificent game allowing but a few well scattered hits and striking out sixteen men during the remainder of the game. For the last six rounds the Outcasts were unable to get a hit and not more than three men faced the youngster in each inning with the exception of the seventh and the eighth innings.

Barngrover also pitched a good game and while he was not much with the stick there was little hitting credited to the locals and he made a sacrifice that helped some. With the exception of the fourth inning when the Duluth team got their four hits and scored the three runs he pitched big league ball. The last part of the game was a pretty fling duel between the two pitchers with honors about even. Barngrover struck out eleven batters and after the fourth inning kept the few hits scattered.

Crowd Small

There was but one disappointing feature to the game and that was that there was such a small crowd present to see it. The attendance the last few days has been small and that such a good game should be seen by so few fans is a shame.

To Doll goes the honor of starting the bombardment which started the winning in the fifteenth inning. His hit to center field commenced the beginning of the end. Then came the bungle of Johnson and the luck at the plate.

Court Holds He Had No Right to "Bluff" Two Customers Because They were Late

Sunday afternoon E. May, with the United States Express company, and F. Smith, employed at Arenz' shoe store, hired a rig at Meister's livery. They returned an hour after six, being later than the afternoon price called for. Meister, they allege, grew very abusive and rough and threatened to have them arrested if they didn't pay him $25. They say he finally forced them to leave their gold watches to save themselves from being arrested, because they hadn't the $25 to pay the price he demanded. The young men engaged Attorney F. H. Withrow, who demanded the watches, and tendered the $2 overcharge due Meister for the overcharge on the rig. This Meister refused, and Attorney Withrow announced he would secure a warrant charging the liveryman with blackmail. He interviewed Judge Brindley, who referred him to District Attorney James Thompson. After interviewing the district attorney, Attorney Withrow decided to start replevin action before criminal proceedings, and as a result Meister was taken into court this morning. He quickly returned the watches, paid court costs, and sought in other ways to make amends to the young men he had ill treated.

Heads of Local Organizations Get Word to Watch Out for Agents of Copper Interests Here

Organizer Rae of the local Trades and Labor council has received a warning from unionists at Great Falls, Mont., that an agent of the anti-unionists in that state, is now working in La Crosse to secure men for all branches of trades in that district.

The letter states that the copper interests, the Citizens' alliance, the Chamber of Commerce and the Merchants' exchange are combining in an effort to kill unionism in Montana; that there is no question of wages or hours, but only of maintaining the unions. The result, says the warning, is that there is a general lockout and one of the hardest fights ever recorded.

An organizer for the anti-unionists has been sent to La Crosse and is now working here to try to induce laborers in all trades to go to Great Falls and Organizer Rae warns unionists against accepting any offers, as they would not be allowed to work by the unions after they go there and probably would have to pay their own railroad fare home. The anti-union interests, says the letter, have sent scouts to all parts of the country to secure "scabs."

SCHOOLS CANNOT TEACH RELIGION

CHICAGO, June 30.—The decision of the Illinois supreme court barring the bible from the public schools of the state will have no effect in Chicago, according to a statement made today by Alfred R. Urien, president of the board of education.

"It is a delicate question," he said, "but the school authorities of Chicago have long taken the stand that the schools are not for religious teaching."

The supreme court held that it would be impossible to teach all creeds in the schools and that if any of them were eliminated and others taught, it would not be in accordance with the religious liberty granted by the constitution of the United States.

Listman Mill Installs New Pump, which Is Offered to City in Case of Emergency

The Listman Mill company, through its manager, George M. Heath, has offered the city of La Crosse the use of its new pump, which has just been installed in the mill, in case of fire in that section of the city. The proposition was made to Mayor Sorensen by Manager Heath this morning.

The company has just completed the installation of a new pump, having a capacity of 2,000 gallons per minute. In view of the fact that the water pressure has not been very great during the long dry spell, the company will allow the city to connect four streams of 200 pound pressure to the pumps in case of fire in that part of town.

The tramp was sitting on a bench in the court house park when the judge accosted him and asked him if he was working, and if not he could find a couple of hours' work at his boat. The tramp appeared to be insulted when asked to work, and simply told the judge that he did not have to work for a living.

TWO ARE HELD UP ON THE NORTH SIDE

James Wilson and Patrick Herron Are Victims of Three Men, who Are Arrested

While sitting on the steps in front of the saloon of Ole Brown, on the North side last evening, James Wilson and Patrick Herron were held up by three men, who disappeared but who were later arrested by the police.

The hold-up occurred in the early part of the evening. According to the story told by Wilson and Herron they were sitting on the steps of the saloon when three strangers came up to them, one pointing a revolver at them and another holding them. Wilson had about fifty cents in his pocket, which was taken. Herron had no money and therefore was not molested after the robbers found that he had nothing.

Wilson and Herron are laying steel for the Burlington railroad company south of here and came to La Crosse to get their pay. Wilson received a check of something over $6 and after having it cashed he left $5 of it with Mr. Brown, the saloonkeeper.

About 11 o'clock last night the police arrested Tom Dennison, William Gray and John Welch, charged with the affair. They said they are employed by the Burlington above Grand Crossing. The trio was on George street when they were picked up by Patrolman Fitzsimmons and Britton.

Easy Money

We overheard an interesting conversation between a couple of sparrows last week.

"Yes, 10,000 pounds," said the one "What! Just for flying from London to Manchester?"

"Fact, I assure you."

"Well, I'm jiggered!"

Meanwhile there is some talk in the avine world of offering a handsome prize to the first bird which shall succeed in walking all the way from London to Manchester.—Punch.

"Drugs in Drugs"

The writer took a doctor's prescription to the drug store to have it filled. In some way this piece of paper became torn in half, so that when the patron handed the druggist the first piece, that public servant at once measured out the ammonia salt it called for and placed the small vial before his customer.

"How much?" asked the patron.

"Ten cents."

"Oh, beg pardon!" said the purchaser, at this juncture finding the remainder of the prescription in his pocket. "This piece says to add enough water to the other to make four ounces."

"Very well," rejoined the apothecary, dumping the contents of the small vial into a four ounce bottle and adding the required water. "There you are, sir, 40 cents more, please."

"What! 10 cents for the ammonia and 40 cents for the water?"

"Exactly. The doctor's name written after the water makes it a prescription, and we put up no prescriptions under 50 cents."—Judge's Library.

BLITZ and BLATZ

Blitz—It's a sad spectacular to observe the big junks of ignorance lodged in the heads of those, that think themselves the wise ones of the world. When Numa Pompilius was made emperor of the Romans.

Blatz—Wait a minute. What kind of sickness you call it what you now have? How long you have it? Does it come on often? In confidence I would advise you to consult one of our leading physicians at once. Have the prescription put up at Beyschlag's Drug Store, 503 Main street. He put up 186073 already and knows how to do it, and you'll soon be yourself once more.

Blitz—It must have been the excessiveness of the heat. I'm on the way to my family physician now for a prescription to have it filled at Beyschlag's. Watch my improving thereafter!

CONVICT MURDERER IN ITALY BY PROXY

Case Against Charlton will Be Tried and He will Never Dare Leave United States

ROME, June 30.—Unless Porter Charlton, held in Jersey City, on the charge of murdering his wife at Moltrasio, Italy, is surrendered to the Italian government for trial, he will be adjudged guilty of murder by proxy. In that event he may never leave the United States without danger of arrest.

The president of the Como Tribunal announced today that if the United States refused to yield up Charlton, in order to try him in that country on the murder charge as Italy does with prisoners wanted in the United States, a court martial will be held without the presence of Charlton. There is sufficient evidence to convict him by proxy, on the charge of murder.

It is not believed in Italy that the United States authorities will permit Charlton to be returned here.

BODY FOUND TODAY WEDGED IN "HOLD"

caped, while Boat Policeman Jack Page told newspaper men positively that Plein had been released long before the fire was discovered.

Criminal Action

The finding of the body disproves these statements of the boat people, and it is now believed certain that criminal action will be started against the owners of the vessel by Houston county, Minnesota, officials, who, with the aid of Plein's relatives, have been conducting the investigation. District Attorney Dahl of Caledonia has been at the scene of the wreck, with the intention, it is said, of starting proceedings against the boat company, in the event it was found that Plein had been left imprisoned in the boat.

When raised to the surface, body of Plein will probably be taken to his home at Lansing, Iowa.

Plein did not come to La Crosse with the excursionists on the boat, but came up on the train Saturday. While here he drank quite freely and boarded the boat to return home. While on board he was charged with disorderly conduct by the boat officials and was arrested, handcuffed and cast into the hold of the vessel. It has not been ascertained whether the handcuffs were still on when the body was found today but it is presumed they were, which fact would also have hampered Plein in seeking to make his escape. Plein was a farmer living near Lansing.

Inquest This Afternoon

When news of the finding of Plein's body was telephoned today by the Tribune to District Attorney O. K. Dahl of Houston county at Caledonia that official declared that a coroner's jury was being hurriedly summoned by Coroner Jack Rhimes and would be rushed to the scene at once. The inquest will be called at New Albin at 4 o'clock this afternoon and all available witnesses examined including the diver who found the body.

If the evidence secured is sufficient and Mr. Dahl said he thought there was no doubt that it would be criminal warrants will be issued at once for the arrest of Captain John Streckfus and others of the boat's officials held responsible for the death of Plein who was left locked in the hold with no chance to escape.

District Attorney Dahl would not say what the charge against the boat officers would be, declaring this depended upon the evidence to be taken this afternoon. Neither was he able to say whether the inquest would be finished tonight or would continue into tomorrow.

Randall to Ask $10,000

Everett Randall, New Albin, Ia., whose bride was drowned in the accident to the excursion boat J. S., which burned at Victory, Wis., last Saturday night after 1,500 people were miraculously rescued, will sue the owners of the boat for $10,000 damages.

Randall, accompanied by Steve Randall, his father, and three friends from New Albin, this morning engaged Attorney Frank E. Withrow to take charge of the suit, the papers in which are now being prepared. Under the law, says the attorney, damages of $10,000 can be secured if responsibility can be fastened upon the owners of the vessel, and this is the amount to be sued for.

The complaint will charge the owners of the boat with responsibility for the death of Mrs. Randall, due to alleged negligence. The attorney will fully investigate the theory that Jack Plein, was cast into the vessel's hold while drunk and the probability that the drunken man purposely or accidentally started the fire.

SERIOUS AUTO WRECK IN OHIO

UPPER SANDUSKY, O., June 30.—One man is dead, one dying, and two others are seriously injured as the result of an automobile accident, near Prairie Depot, O., today. The dead: Ralph Beldier, business man, Upper Sandusky. Injured: Rev. E. E. Lashley, pastor of the Upper Sandusky Presbyterian, taken to a hospital at Pistoria, fatally hurt. M. N. Stoneburner, undertaker, and James McConnell, coffin manufacturer, cut and bruised.

The party was enroute to Toledo. In turning a corner the car plunged over a twenty foot embankment. Beldier crawled from beneath the wrecker car, climbed to the top of the embankment and fell over dead.

SETTLERS FIGHT ONTARIO FIRES

Lives and Property Endangered by Brush Fire, Following Drouth in Canada

LAVALLEE, New Ontario, June 30.—Bad brush fires are raging in this district and practically every settler is fighting for life, home and family.

Thousands of acres of merchantable timber have been destroyed and with continued drouth the spread of the flames cannot be checked. About 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon the village of Devlin caught fire and two hours later all hope of saving anything was gone. The people, ringed in by flames, frantically wired the Canadian Northern railway to send a rescue train, which was indeed then on its way.

Lavallee itself is ringed with smoke and flames, and men in the fighting line are sending their wives and families to places of safety.

A great deal of manufactured lumber has been destroyed and several box cars on the sidings have been burned.

Fort Francis and Devlin have since been isolated the destruction of the telegraph and telephone wires.

NELSON WOLGAST FIGHT AT MAJESTIC

Battling Nelson and Ad Wolgast will fight their memorable battle over again Monday afternoon and night at the Majestic theatre.

Pronounced as the most perfect moving pictures of a boxing contest ever taken, the fight fans of this city will be thrilled when given an opportunity to witness the battle which recently cost Battling Nelson his crown as lightweight champion of the world. The pictures prove that even in defeat, Nelson is a great fighter. Under rapid fire he never ceased to be the aggressor, but the cleverness of Wolgast made him miss many of his best blows.

When Ad Wolgast and Battling Nelson stepped through the ropes in Sid Heesters specially constructed arena at Richmond, Contra Costa county, California, on Washington's birthday, the 22nd of February, the eyes of 16,000 dyed-in-the-wool fans were focused on them. The crowd had braved the most trying weather conditions to be on hand, so great was the interest in the meeting of the pair of great lightweights. For forty rounds the men battled, with not a single let up. The contest was particularly free from clinches, the two standing toe to toe throughout the two hours and forty minutes of milling.

It would not do to show the full fight, so Promoter Heister and the newspaper men of San Francisco at a private review of the pictures selected the fifteen best rounds, showing the principal features of the bout. It was raining when the contest started, then the sun came out and lit up the scene. The men were a bit late starting and while the closing rounds were being contested the sun had set and the men fought into the night. It was 6:20 p. m. when the contest was ended by the referee. The camera caught the men to the finish and the closing round is a distinct novelty, and picture men declare them to be a bit of photographic art. They are the finest ever taken.

Returns of the Jeffries-Johnson fight will be read from the stage.

SENATOR M'ENERY AT REST TODAY

NEW ORLEANS, La., June 30.—The funeral of the late United States Senator Robert D. McEnery, who died at his home here, was held this morning at the family residence.

The attendance at the funeral was indicative of the character of the man, United States senators and representatives mingling with the humblest laborers. During Wednesday and today the throng of persons from the humblest walks of life have called at the McEnery home to view the senator's body. Most of them were persons whom the senator had aided during his life.

The funeral today was unpretentious, but there was inadequate facility to care for hundreds who were obliged to stand outside during the services.

The state officials were also represented.

INQUIRY ASKED INTO INDIAN LAND CASE

SENATOR GORE OF OKLA.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The inquiry into the Indian land case will continue under a special committee throughout the summer months. The sensational charges made by Senator Gore that he had been offered $50,000 if he would not oppose legislation permitting what he construed a $3,000,000 steal from the Chickasaw and Choctaw tribes, and claiming that Congressman Charles E. Craeger of Oklahoma was also offered a large bribe, which he, too, angrily turned down, must either be established and the guilty ones punished or the whole affair vindicated.

BRITISH BUDGET MORE MODERATE

Deficit of $154,465,000 Is Expected to Be Made Up From Uncollected Income Taxes

LONDON, June 30.—In the house of commons today, Chancellor Lloyd George presented the budget of expenditures of the British government for 1910. The British budget is the most moderate introduced to the commons for some years, owing to a desire on the part of the ministers to prevent a broil, such as accompanied the rejection of the famous 1909 budget.

A review of the budget shows a deficit of $154,465,000, but this can be largely made up by unpaid income taxes which are collectable. The expenditures of the British government for this year are estimated at $559,285,000, an increase of $48,775,000. This year's budget shows an increase of $27,500,000 in the old age pensions. The system of taxation remains unchanged. It was a change in last year's budget that brought down a storm about Lloyd-George.

BLACK EJECTS A FRIEND OF JEFF

(By Tip Wright.)

JACK JOHNSON'S TRAINING QUARTERS, Reno, Nev., June 30.—"Ah wish, Mistah Woodman, you would vacate these heah premises."

This was the polite but emphatic request made by Jack Johnson today of Joe Woodman, manager for Sam Langford, and part owner of the moving pictures of the Johnson-Jeffries fight when the latter appeared at Rick's Resort to witness the taking of the motion picture of Johnson's training stunts. Inasmuch as Johnson was in his fighting togs when he made the request, Mistah Woodman took the hint and "vamoosed."

Before the moving picture operators arrived with their cameras, Johnson returning from his road work, spied Woodman and sent Harry Hammel, his personal bodyguard, to request Woodman to "beat it." Before Woodman could make a reply Johnson appeared in a flowered bathrobe and remarked to Woodman in a nice, quiet, low voice: "Ah wish, Mistah Woodman, you would leave these heah premises."

When Woodman wanted to know why, Johnson replied: "Now, Mistah Woodman, you know very well what is between us. 'You really want me to get out?'" asked Woodman.

"If you please," smiled the black and Woodman left in an automobile. The exact reason for Woodman's ejection is not known but it is presumed that Johnson believes that Woodman and his protegee, Sam Langford, are entirely too friendly to Jeffries to be allowed to "hang around."

PACKERS FIGHT OUSTER SUITS

Ring In Technicalities Today to Escape Action Against Them in Missouri

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., June 30.—The five packing companies charged by Attorney General Major in his suit filed June 20 with being a trust to maintain and control meat prices today filed a demurrer to the state's petition bringing quo warranto proceedings seeking to oust them from the state.

The demurrer asks that the ouster proceedings be dismissed on the following grounds:

That the petition does not state facts sufficient to constitute a cause of action; that there is a misjoinder of parties; that there is a misjoinder of causes of action and that the court has no jurisdiction.

The demurrer will not be taken up by the court until October. Then if it is overruled the packing companies will file answers to the state's petition and a commissioner will be appointed to take testimony.

The packing companies named in the suit are: Swift & Co.; Armour Packing company; St. Louis Dressed Beef company; Morris & Co., and the Hammond Packing company.

SENATOR GORE AT THE CHAUTAUQUA

grams arranged for different days at the Chautauqua, none will be of more general interest than that of Thursday evening, and all day Friday. It is a veritable feast of musical and literary delights.

Senator Gore Tonight

Everyone is keenly interested in hearing Senator Thomas P. Gore of Oklahoma, the blind senator who sees things, but who was so blind that he couldn't see an immense bribe offered him in congress in regard to the Indian lands. Senator Gore is a coming man, a popular orator, and the idol of his people in his home state. Senator Gore will be introduced by John F. Doherty.

With the Lady Entertainers who give rare programs and quartette specialties, is a reader of splendid abilities. Their concert of this afternoon drew forth great applause, and they will be gladly heard this evening.

The coming of Ruthven McDonald, the big Canadian baritone, is being eagerly anticipated by the musical contingent of the Chautauqua goers. Mr. McDonald has a wonderful voice, and his programs are a revelation of the best in music. He is accompanied by his wife who plays his accompaniments in a charming manner. Mr. McDonald will be heard in two programs.

Oneal to Lecture

Dr. Earnest Wray Oneal who will give his lecture "Popular Fallacies" following the afternoon program of the McDonalds, is a virile speaker as well as a great thinker, and comes with the highest encomiums of the press and enthusiastic hearers.

The Story Beautiful

No one will want to miss the "Story Beautiful" as given by Father MacCorry with over one hundred illustrations. It will be one of the best things of Chautauqua week.

Some new and startling facts in regard to "Health" were presented by Mr. Mott R. Sawyers in his lecture this morning at the Chautauqua.

The first part of his talk was devoted more or less to statistical figures showing the appalling loss of life in the United States through disease and the comparatively small per cent of it which is really necessary.

Get Good Health

The most important thing in the world is health, says Mr. Sawyers, if you've got it keep it; if you haven't got it, you better get it. Strive as they may, people who haven't good health cannot enjoy life.

Also, there is the injustice to others to be considered, and the price of a person's good health means dollars and cents to themselves.

The earning period of a man's life should be prolonged as far as possible, both to reward those who took care of him in the beginning, and to repay those who will have to care for him when his earning period is past.

Used to Blame God

People used to blame it on God when some one was taken away in the prime of manhood or the flower of youth. The fact of the matter is, God hasn't called them at all. He wants every one to live their allotted time, in perfect health.

Health has its laws, just as agriculture or any other science, therefore when any of these laws are broken the penalty must be paid.

Most ill health is preventable—probably nine-tenths of it. We can win out over the "white plague" with exercise, open air, plenty of sunshine and right living.

There are four great enemies of health says Mr. Sawyers—ignorance, carelessness, dirt and sin. People don't study enough about their health, we should know more about the causes of disease.

PASSENGERS DANCE WITH SHIP AFTER

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., June 30.—The Merchants and Miners steamship Grecian, which sailed from this port yesterday afternoon for Boston, with 80 passengers and a heavy cargo of wool and turpentine, raced back here today with her hull a roaring furnace.

After the vessel docked and all the passengers had been landed, flames fought the blaze from the harbor and river and more than a dozen fighters were overcome by heat and smoke.

While the flames were eating their way through the cargo, the passengers, after being hastily aroused, danced from midnight until daylight in the ship's salon, courageously defying danger until port was reached.

The blaze was discovered soon after midnight while the vessel was passing out of the Delaware capes. After a hurried examination, Captain Briggs dispatched officers to the cabins and aroused the passengers. Each was told to dress quickly but quietly. As soon as they appeared on the deck they were escorted to the salon where the captain talked, promising them that should there be danger he would warn them in plenty of time. He urged them to remain below deck and find amusement. Dancing was suggested and when a young woman passenger went to the piano, the salon in a few minutes was turned into a ball room. The blaze at noon today had not been extinguished.

WHITE SELECTED SECOND REFEREE

(By Max Balthaser.)

JEFFRIES' TRAINING QUARTERS, Moana Springs, Reno, Nev., June 30.—Charlie White of New York will be the emergency referee in the Jeffries-Johnson fight on Independence day. This was assured this morning when Tex Rickard secured White's acceptance and immediately informed Tom Flanagan, Johnson's manager, who withdrew his objections to the Gothamite.

A rumor from Chicago regarding the emergency referee question caused a little stir here today. This report was to the effect that Tex Rickard is planning to retire from the ring at the end of the first round of Mondays fight, leaving Charlie White to referee the rest of the battle.

Rickard branded the report as utterly "absurd," declaring he intended to referee the fight just as long as he could and that he would give way to no one as long as he could stand on his feet.

White arrived this morning and Tim Sullivan arrives this evening.

Frontier Lodge No. 45 F. & A. M. will have work in the third degree 7:30 this evening.

PURELY S.S.S. VEGETABLE

It is a generally recognized fact that medicines taken from the botanical kingdom are better adapted to the delicate human system, and safer in every way, than those composed of strong mineral mixtures.

In the early settlement of this land, our forefathers were obliged to procure their medicines from Nature's great laboratories of forest and field. They searched out and compounded the different vegetable materials into teas, concoctions and medicines. That these pioneers found the most potent and valuable of the roots, herbs and barks placed at their disposal, is abundantly proven by the fact that the great majority of them were blessed with rugged health. They cured their diseases and were enabled to do the great preliminary work of civilization because the remedies they used were Nature's remedies, and specially adapted to the needs of humanity.

Among the very best of these vegetable preparations is S. S. S., a medicine made entirely of roots, herbs and barks in such combination as to make it the greatest of all blood purifiers and the finest of all tonics. S. S. S. does not contain the least particle of mineral in any form, and is absolutely a safe medicine for any one to use.

While purifying the blood this great vegetable remedy builds up and strengthens every portion of the system. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism, Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, Malaria, Scrofula, Skin Diseases, Contagious Blood Poison, hereditary taints, and all other diseases and disorders caused by impure or polluted blood.

As a tonic S. S. S. is unequalled. It invigorates every portion of the system, and the healthy blood it creates largely assists in overcoming any derangement of the digestive system. If you are suffering from any blood trouble, or need a tonic to build up your constitution, you could not do better than to take S. S. S., a medicine that is in no degree harmful. Book on the blood and any medical advice free.

FOREIGN MARKETS

New York Stocks.

NEW YORK, June 30.—The stock market was feverish and unsettled at the opening today, with many leading issues showing losses ranging from fractions to two points, but in the next few minutes there were rallies of a point or more, but the tone was extremely nervous.

11 a. m.—The tone was one of extreme weakness from the opening and although a slight rally occurred the downward movement was quickly resumed, prices of leading issues falling from one to more than three points.

Government bonds unchanged; others weak.

Noon.—There was no improvement in the situation during the late forenoon and at midday prices of many of the important issues were four to six points under yesterday's close. The heaviest losses were sustained in the western railroad shares.

2 p. m.—After midday the pressure against the market decreased considerably and prices of the more important issues were up 1 to 3 points.

The market closed strong.

Market Letter

NEW YORK, June 30.—With the entire list under pressure from the opening of the stock market today, new low standards for the entire year were reached in many stocks. When the market opened there was a flood of selling orders which, at once, carried prices down below last night's quotations.

The dead line mark in steel common, 70, which has lasted all year and below which it had been reported the control of that stock had decreed it must not fall, was reached before noon when, on a perfect avalanche of selling orders there was a drop to 69 7/8. This was exactly 25 points below the stock's high record of last fall. Reading, B. & O., Atchafalpa, Union Pacific, Amalgamated, Southern Pacific and others of the investment leaders, dropped to new low marks and the exchange was in great confusion.

There seemed to be no reason for the selling other than the general belief that other than from now on the railroad would have nothing to say in the making of rates and that as a result earnings must be curtailed.

Grain Letter

CHICAGO, June 30.—There was an abrupt break in wheat prices at the opening today. The September price, which was a shade over $1 at the close yesterday, on a sharp decline, started this morning with trades all the way from 99 1/2 off to 98 7/8. There was a temporary rally of 1-2 to 99 3/8, and then a second dip to 97 7/8. From 11-7-8 the December price was off to $1.00 1/4. From $1.04 1/2, the May price had a break to $1.03. The cause of the selling pressure was a good rainfall at Bismark, N. D., over night, a few light showers at other points in the same state, and cloudy conditions over much of the spring wheat country, suggesting a general breaking of the terrible drought which has threatened the big wheat crop of the northwest states.

Corn traders began the day with a bearish turn, the July price off 1-2 to 58 1/4, the September off 3-8 to 60 1-8.

Oats broke in sympathy with other grains. Reported rains in North Dakota improved crop prospects in that section and prompted active selling of long oats, both by local and outside speculators. The demand was limited July opened 39 to 38 7/8, September 38 3/8, sold to 38 1/4, back to 38 1/4 to 3-8.

Provisions were a shade higher. There was good buying of product, which the trade was inclined to credit to the packer, while the higher hog market prompted some buying.

Close.—Reports of rain in North Dakota and Manitoba caused continued weakness through the day. July wheat closed 1 1/2 off, September 3 points and December 1 1/2. Corn closed 1/2 lower on all options and oats closed from 1/2 to 3/4 off. Provisions lower.

A SALE OF FIREWORKS WITHOUT AN EQUAL

Owing to the recent dry weather, Mayor Sorensen thought best to forbid the sale of Fireworks until July 1st. Although this was a big blow to our Fireworks business, we realized its wisdom, and being always willing to sacrifice our private interests for the public good, we complied gladly and immediately. Tomorrow, Friday, July 1st, and Saturday, July 2nd, Mayor Sorensen has given us permission to sell our Fireworks. You can see what this means.

WE MUST SELL IN TWO DAYS $2,000 WORTH OF FIREWORKS
JUST ABOUT WHAT WE'VE ORDINARILY TAKEN 2 WEEKS TO SELL

There are no two ways about it. We've simply got to do it, even though we take a heavy loss, for we know, and you know, that Fireworks can't be carried over, and if we don't take this loss and sell them now, we'll keep them and take a bigger loss later on. Prices have been made accordingly. You are really and truly the gainer. Come Friday expecting something BIG. You'll not be disappointed.

round, scoring two runs. They took kindly to the twisting pellets that Dietrich was feeding to them and hit well besides getting a base on balls which helped. The support in the first inning tottered a little and this also assisted in the running.
Connell grounded a sizzler to Johnson who bungled the slam, allowing Biddy to get safe. Ward struck out and Doll showed himself in the right spot at the right time by hitting to right for two bases scoring Connell. Safford skied one to Vashbinder and Zalusky was passed. Klein slammed one to Hpistrom which the first sacker bobbled long enough for Doll to count. Wals grounded out to Altermatt.

There was no more running till the fourth when the White Sox fell on Barngrover for four hits which assisted by a misplay by Ward scored their three lonely runs. Anderson started with a double to right and scored a moment later when O'Brien hit to center for a single, going to second on the throw to the center field and Joe returning it in time to let Connell catch Darby sliding over the third sack. Taylor struck out and Vashbinder singled to center. He scored a moment later when Altermatt stretched out a two bagger to left field. Holstrom slammed one to Ward, which the first baseman missed. Johnson flied out to Kuehn.

Outcasts Tie Up
La Crosse tied up in the eighth round. Zalusky got a walk to first off Daus, was sacrificed to second by Klein and went to third on a wild pitch by Daus and scored when Wals poked the pill into right field for a clean hit. Kuehn and Vashbinder and Barngrover were out.

The ninth inning was unproductive of anything that could have started a run. Daus' wildness in the previous inning had allowed La Crosse to tie up the game. A base on balls and a wild pitch had made this possible and had not this occurred La Crosse would have been defeated. From then on the game resolved itself into a pitching duel of the very best order. Both heavies heaved with a vim and effectiveness that proved the undoing of the best hitters on the two teams. It seemed as if the game would continue indefinitely but the break was bound to come soon. In the fifteenth the psychological slip came; in this round the Outcasts won out. After holding the locals hitless for six innings, Doll managed to poke the pill on the nose, the slam going for a single in center field. Safford waited and made an attempt to sacrifice bounding the pesky pellet to Johnson who missed for just an instant and then being in a hurry to catch the runner at first heaved the elusive pill over Holstrom's head and allowing Doll to waddle to third where he paused for an instant to watch the ball. Darby who was backing up the first baseman heaved the ball to the catcher where it struck in front of the rubber, bounced out of Holdings' reach and allowed Doll to score the winning count.
